

Alan Chadwick (1909-1980)

Greetings.....

We are delighted to send you the news of our new website:

The "Alan Chadwick Living Library & Archive" website is now online @ the URL Link: <http://chadwickarchive.org>

Alan Chadwick (1909-1980), English master gardener and horticulturalist, was tutored and deeply influenced by Rudolf Steiner, and was at the forefront of the organic "Slow Food Movement" in the United States, mentoring and apprenticing students for over a decade. Thousands of organic gardeners internationally have been influenced by his vision, work and legacy.

Alan Chadwick is the creator of the "Biodynamic / French Intensive" approach to horticulture and organic gardening.

There is more new material uploaded. And we are right now in the process of making webpage changes.

Only about 50% of the archival materials we have gathered since 1980, have been uploaded to the website to date. And 34 people have told us they will send more archival materials. It is a work in progress. Please stay tuned...much more to come.

Please share this link to the website with people or groups that you feel would be interested in the life, work and legacy of Alan Chadwick. Thank you.

I apprenticed directly with Alan Chadwick in 1978-79 in Virginia.

Warm regards,

Craig A. Siska
