The “Alan Chadwick Living Library & Archive Website” was launched in July of 2017, to make the Life, Work, Vision & Legacy of Master Horticulturalist & Thespian - Alan Chadwick - available freely, to the public and world at-large.

In 1977, E.F. Schumacher, the author of Small Is Beautiful, stated that, “Alan Chadwick....an Englishman who started life as an actor... is now the finest teacher of intensive horticultural, agricultural methods that I think the world possesses today.”

Only approx. 55% of the total archival material has been remastered and uploaded onto the website to date (August, 2018).

MORE WORK TO BE DONE:

* Only about 55% of the archival material has been restored-remastered and uploaded onto the website to date (September, 2018).

* More recorded audio lectures-public talks, video, photos, letters, notes, journals, text, garden logs, historical essays & other material still need to be restored-remastered and displayed on the website. Much more transcribing, editing and annotation needs to occur.

* Cost To Finish The Archive Website (estimated): $50,000

* $50-75 Remasters & Uploads An Audio Lecture.
