

SUNDAY MAY 2, 2-5
FREE TO ALL

an interactive exhibit and may day celebration

FACING OUR NEIGHBORS

On the grounds of the historic St. Joseph C.M.E. church, at the corner of Rosemary and Roberson, Chapel Hill

photo: Jim Wallace

photo portraits! listening stations! performances! refreshments! music! food! kids' fun! spoken word!

OPPORTUNITIES TO SHARE YOUR VISION AND HISTORIES OF NEIGHBORHOOD

This event is offered by student friends of St. Joseph and affiliates of the Marian Cheek Jackson Center for Saving and Making History, with the generous support of the Town of Chapel Hill Public Arts Commission, the North Carolina Humanities Council, the community collaborative United with the Northside Community Now, APPLES, the Department of Communication Studies at UNC, and St. Joseph C.M.E.

For further information, contact the Jackson Center at 919-929-5029 or jacksoncenter.info@gmail.com.